Royal Court at the Nevada County Fair

Should Have Had a Better Car

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP)—It was a classic scene: Two gunmen fleeing the drug store they had just robbed, sprinting into an alley where their getaway car was parked. A turn of the ignition, a grinding of gears and—the differential fell out of the 1937 car.

Police found two men hiding in the alley minutes after the robbery Wednesday night. They arrested James M. Kennedy, 21, and Robert A. Webster, 20. Both were held without charge.

Officers said they recovered $104 taken in the robbery.

Appointments Given Approval

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Senate Thursday confirmed Gov. Orval E. Faubus' appointment of three members to the Fargot Training School Board.

The appointees are Joe Roberts of Brinkley, Malvin E. Moore of Pine Bluff and Charles Dyson of North Little Rock.

Teachers, Tech in the Top 25

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The rating board of the National Association of Interscholastic Athletics has given a pre-season double-A ranking to 25 teams including Arkansas State Teachers College at Conway and Arkansas Tech at Russellville.

The board ranked 38 NAIA football teams as triple-A.

Rightists in Algeria Blast TV Station

ALGIERS (AP)—The French rightist underground army blasted Algiers' television Thursday night with explosives and called for demonstrations to test its strength against President Charles de Gaulle.

"De Gaulle, it is you who will disappear, you who will fall," declared the voice of Raoul Salan, fugitive ex-general who was stripped of his rank and sentenced to death for leading the abortive revolt last April against De Gaulle and his policy of self-determination for Algeria.

Salan is a leader of the secret army organization, a European terrorist group sworn to keep this big African territory part of France. He accused De Gaulle of planning to "sell out" the Europeans in Algeria.

Salan, former French commander in Algeria, spoke on a 25-minute pirate program. Its commandos knocked out the government TV station in a blast staged with military precision. Five pyons of the TV antenna tumbled.

TV screens flickered with black and white lines, and the secret army broadcast over a clandestine transmitter on the audio frequency.

This cut off the channel just before the scheduled start of a program showing De Gaulle on a grass roots tour of southern France, where he inveighed against these same terrorist tactics—"these agitations, these pretensions, these crimes."

Salan called on residents of Algiers to come to their windows and balconies tonight for half an hour to demonstrate in the "classical" manner. This means shouting and beating on pots and pans.

Three days ago, Algiers military headquarters called for an all-out campaign against the secret army. The broadcast and a dozen new plastic bomb blasts in Algiers indicated that the secret army is far from crushed.

Two Die in Helena Wreck

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—Two men were killed and another was critically injured Thursday night when the car in which they were riding plunged off a highway near here, struck a culvert and overturned.

Killed were Johnny Joseph Muffaletto, 23, of Helena, the driver, and James Brown, 19, of West Helena. In critical condition in a Helena hospital was Sammy Bradley, 21, of Helena.

State Police said Muffaletto pulled out to pass another car, met oncoming traffic, and pulled off onto the left shoulder of state Highway 20 six miles west of here. The car plunged off the highway. The three men were thrown out.

Faubus Gets All But Two of His Bills

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislature wound up its second session within a month Thursday, passing all but two of the items Gov. Orval E. Faubus listed in his call.

One of the unpassed bills would have set up a Crime Commission. It wasn't exactly killed, though because the Legislative Council was told to study the commission proposal and report to the 1963 regular session.

Meeting with a second defeat in the short special sessions were Faubus-backed bills to give $417,000 to state, county and district livestock shows.

A bloc of nine senators killed the appropriations bills in the last hour of the session. "The senators who voted against the bill didn't accomplish anything but delay," Faubus said. He added that he'd try again for the livestock show money in the 1963 session.

Faubus Thursday completed action on the most important item in the session—a compromise congressional redistricting bill. He signed it into law, ending a routine trip through the legislative process. It created no controversy. Faubus also signed the other measures Thursday.

Sen. Jimmy Slack of Arkadelphia was the key to passage of the livestock appropriations bills. Proponents needed to sway votes of two of the 10 senators which voted against the bill Tuesday. Sen. Robert Hays Williams of Russellville changed his vote, and if Slack would have changed, the bill would have passed.

After a conference with the governor, Slack said he wouldn't budge. "I'm catching it from two sides," he said. "The governor and the school people." He sells textbooks and must deal with school administrators. The powerful Arkansas Education Association opposed the bills.

Passed in the three-day session were bills:

Appropriating $67,000 to pay expenses of a Commission on Coordination of Higher Education Finance, created at the first special session.

Dr. Wright Is Critically Hurt in Wreck

Dr. George Wright of Hope was critically injured late yesterday in an auto accident near Benton. Details were not available.

The Hope physician was reportedly found in his wrecked car. He was examined by a Benton physician and rushed to a Little Rock hospital where he underwent surgery for removal of his spleen and a punctured intestine.

He was reported to be doing as well as could be expected and the operation appears successful. However, recovery will take some time, friends here said.

Dr. Wright had spent two days in Little Rock attending a medical meeting and was enroute home, Mrs. Wright is at his bedside.

L. R. Had High Fallout Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Little Rock, Ark., has registered the highest level of radioactivity in the atmosphere recorded in the United States since the Russians resumed nuclear tests.

The Little Rock field estimate Wednesday was 700 micromicrocuries of gross Beta radioactivity per cubic meter of air, the Public Health Service reported Thursday. Little Rock had registered 0.20 Sept. 14 and 169 Tuesday.

A Public Health Service spokesman said it was by far the highest level ever recorded at Little Rock. The Little Rock count dropped to 280 micromicrocuries Thursday and the state Health Department said the reduction was probably due to a change in the wind direction and rains elsewhere over the nation.

Berlin Cool to Transfer of the UN

By ROLF STEINBERG

BERLIN (AP)—The idea of transferring U. N. headquarters to this troubled city leaves most West Berliners cool.

Most people asked about it had no confidence that bringing the world body here from New York would bring peace. Some went so far as to point to the Congo and suggest the U. N. presence in Berlin might lead to more trouble.

Both East and West have floated informal suggestions that the transfer here of the U. N. might be a way out of the impasse over Berlin.

Izvestia, the official Soviet government newspaper, endorsed the idea this week as worth considering. Premier Khrushchev has indicated he would support the idea if the Western allies quit the city.

On the Western side Konrad Adenauer, the chancellor of West Germany, has called it "a bold proposal" that might ease tension over Berlin.

His political rival, Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin, however, thought the project "not very realistic." He insisted any U. N. plan would have to include both West Berlin and the Communist East sector, now sealed off behind a wall.

What does the Berliner-in-the-street think?

Some businessmen thought the stimulus to tourism and the arrival of highly paid diplomats would give the economy a shot in the arm. But most people feared that in the long run the Communists would be able to twist the situation to their advantage.

The balance of power in the voting may rest with the new African nations, some of whom are friendly toward Peiping.

World Leaders Urge Berlin Settlement

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Diplomats from widely separated parts of the world today appealed for a negotiated settlement of the Berlin crisis as the U.N. General Assembly opened its policy debate.

It quickly became clear that this was the issue which was causing the gravest concern in the 99-nation assembly. There also were expressions of anxiety over the situation created in the U.N. secretariat by the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

Brazilian Foreign Minister Afonso Arinos de Melo Franco, opening the annual policy debate, expressed hope that President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev would reach a compromise on Berlin.

Japan's Foreign Minister Ichiro Kase also said the only way to reach a solution is through negotiations. He backed the Western power contention that the four power agreement on Berlin continues in effect and cannot be set aside by any one of the powers.

Hossein Ghods Nakhai, foreign minister of Iran, appealed to the big powers to rule out the use of force. He, like the representatives of Brazil and Japan, also urged that the German people be allowed to determine their own future.

Turning to the secretariat question, Kase declared he could not support the Soviet demands for a three-man directorate to replace the secretary-general. Both Kase and Nakhai expressed belief that such a system would paralyze the operations of the United Nations.

They spoke as U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in a statement prepared for a luncheon of the Foreign Press Association, urged the assembly to name "an outstanding world leader" to take over temporarily the duties of the secretary-general.

Meanwhile, the explosive question of whether Red China should be seated in the United Nations was assured a full assembly debate for the first time in history.

The United States and the Soviet Union both voted to put it on the General Assembly's agenda but with different goals. Washington is trying to keep Peiping out of the world organization and Moscow wants to bring in its Chinese ally.

The balance of power in the voting may rest with the new African nations, some of whom are friendly toward Peiping.

The Chinese question was one of several issues that brought on sharp debate in the assembly's 21-nation Steering Committee on Thursday.

Overriding bitter Soviet objections, the committee vowed to set

Red Drive in Viet Nam Predicted
By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some military authorities today forecast a drive by Communist North Viet Nam to grab part of anti Communist South Viet Nam, possibly by using regular forces instead of guerrilla infiltrators.
Such an offensive, they said, could come in November and December, after the rainy season ends in that part of the world.
A move of this sort could present the United States with a grave challenge about the time the Berlin crisis might be coming to a head. Such twin threats thousands of miles apart would put considerable strain on U.S. military resources.
"One thing is fairly clear," said one military expert on South

Chapter XIX
Thirsting for knowledge wherever it could be found, the French girls suddenly discovered Aztec art. Belinda Snoddy had considerable of it and was delighted to have the girls at her house every evening to study her treasures, which were no longer "that Indian junk my husband picked up in Mexico."
She had a large basement suitable for rehearsing theatrical performances, and that was the turning point where Miss Cowgill missed the play.

Completely out of Belinda's favor by this time, Herk Myrtleline sometimes edged up to the basement windows to find out what was going on. All he got was confused. It seemed that they were having a cancan, defending a settlement against Indians, hanging a crooked faro dealer, and hunting gold—all at the same time. And one of the redskins was trying to work his guitar music into everything that went on.
Bemused as they were by each other, Miss Cowgill and Dr. Snoddy by no means forgot that she had an obligation to her students which went on 24 hours a day during the field tour. Surely the students would be all right at Belinda's house but it was well to check. Miss Cowgill and the doctor were sitting in the lounge when they made the decision to do so at once.
No sooner had the pair departed in Dr. Snoddy's jeep than Glubman rang the tiffin. "She's coming down to check up on things, Mrs. Snoddy."
This was a little strategy worked out by Lucile, whose father had taught her well that it was permissible, even profitable, to conspire with the wrong political party, as long as you weren't nailed in the act. Belinda, of course, was up to her wattle neck in the conspiracy to deceive. "Why, dear, dear Dr. Cowgill!" she gushed, opening the door to the visitor, and at the same time squinting hard against the porch light to see if poor Frank, alas, had brought Miss Cowgill to the scene. He had indeed, and she saw him waiting out there in his jeep. Trying to make her jealous, was he?

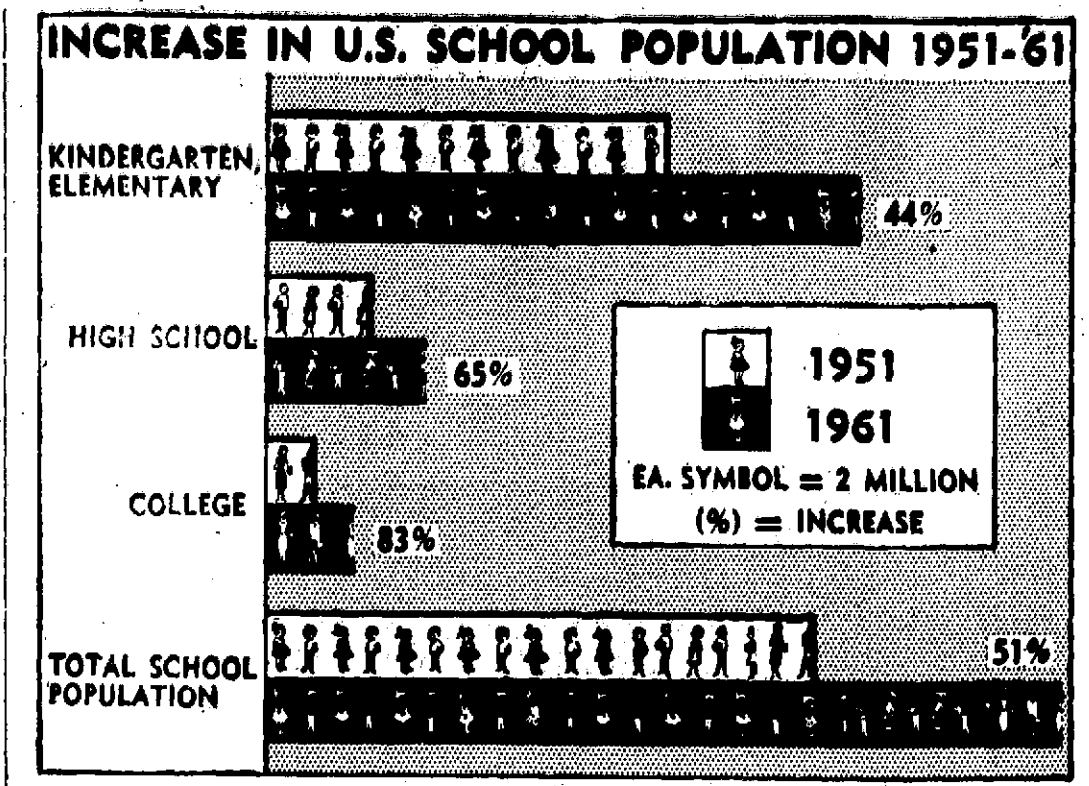

Around the spacious living room the girls were seated demurely. Miss Cowgill did not know that seven redmen lurked in silent ambush in the basement, with Turk Hruska, Mickey Doll, and several other innocents who had been Shanghai'd as performers in "Perils of the West."

Miss Cowgill had a cup of tea. She returned to Glubby's Gas-thaus and her charges came in promptly at 10:30. French policy was safe and secure. Moreover, Miss Cowgill had received that letter from President Crunch, complimenting her for inducing Dr. Snoddy to lecture to Geology 2, for in her weekly report she had stated the facts honestly.

TAPPING THE SUN—Electricity is manufactured directly from the energy of the sun in this solar electric power plant under development by Westinghouse. An eight-foot saucer-shaped mirror focuses 840 degrees of heat on a small thermoelectric generator in the center, resulting in 50 watts of useful electricity. A larger model, generating 200 watts, is also planned. Cheap power plants like these could help feed millions in underdeveloped lands by providing power for such things as irrigation pumps, say engineers.

Prexy Crunch, you may be sure, had ordered a fast background report on Dr. Frank Snoddy the moment he received Miss Cowgill's report. In two days he had the dossier.
"... excellent professional reputation nothing derogatory in subject's personal affairs during period covered... served profitable connections with Bolivian Tri-Metals... income not completely ascertained but thought to be $25,000..."
He dug farther and turned up the satisfying fact that Dr. Snoddy was known personally to several heavy patrons of the college who had fished with him in the Andes. They all approved of him.

"It's only a question of time before Miss Cowgill catches on," Lucile said. "We need another red herring." She looked speculatively at Mickey. "Now wait a minute!" said he, not liking the fishy sound of things.
Stephanie nodded. "You're right, Belinda is the weak link in affairs. She's with us now because she still has hopes of recapturing the good doctor. Anything she can do to deceive Miss Cowgill pleases her, but when she comes to the inescapable conclusion that Dr. Snoddy is lost to her forever—"
"Her wrath will encompass all of us, and out we'll go on our kiesters," Linda said.
Golly, thought Mickey, another word to look up.

"Understanding politics," Lucile said. "All we need is a secondary position, another place to rehearse. How about your house, Mickey Doll?"
"Sure," said Mickey, and then he remembered that he'd better consult his parents first. "That is, I'll see."
"Swimming pool?" Beth asked.
"Heck no!"
"Tennis court, with lights?"
"Get hep," said Mickey.
"We've got to have some attraction to replace art."
"He's got a badminton thing," Rockabilly said. "You know, you whack those feather balls like you were chasing blobs of smoke."
"We're in!" Stephanie said. "We've just taken up badminton."

Esther Heads to Harmless End at Sea

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hurricane Esther, downgraded to a tropical storm, headed on out to sea today. Her center never touched the American mainland.
The Boston Weather Bureau Thursday night reported she was traveling northeasterly into the Atlantic with a center wind velocity of less than 70 miles per hour.
The Canadian maritime provinces, alerted for any big blow, were told to expect winds of only 40 m.p.h. and a fair amount of rainfall.
Esther inflicted much less damage than expected, and no deaths directly attributable to the storm were reported.
An alert along the entire Eastern Seaboard aided considerably. Most of the damage was caused by high winds which blew down trees and power lines, by high coastal tides, and by flooding due to heavy rainfall.
New England, remembering the devastating hurricane of 1937, girded for heavy damage. But Esther veered to sea when it appeared she would make her first landfall at Cape Cod.
Among the Cape Codders evacuated were President Kennedy's two children, Caroline, 3, and John Jr., 9 months. They were taken from Hyannis Port, Mass., to Otis Air Force Base.

Says 2 States 'City Slick' New York

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A New York relief administrator charges that some Florida and Georgia welfare officials are paying welfare recipients to move to New York and get on its relief rolls.
William B. Woods, Monroe County welfare commissioner, said Thursday there were three specific cases—two in Florida and one in Georgia—in which welfare recipients had been told, in effect: "We'll give you your checks for the first year you're in New York and then you apply to them for welfare."
Florida and Georgia welfare officials said they knew of no specific cases such as Wood described.
Woods said all three cases were denied relief and were referred to the State Department of Social Welfare for any further action.
He declined to say what parts of Georgia and Florida the cases came from.

Director Frank M. Craft of the Florida Department of Public Welfare said in Jacksonville: "It's a little hard for me to understand how anybody can make a charge like that because there is no possible way for us to advance a year's assistance payment until a person is qualified in another state."
Georgia Welfare Director Alan Kemper said, however, in Atlanta: "We are not building any fence around Georgia to keep people from going out or coming in. If we feel that a person can help himself by moving into another state, we will do all we can to assist him. Our business is to feed hungry folks and not to tell them where they have to live."

up a separate debate on a treaty to end nuclear tests. The United States and Britain, sponsors of the move, hope this will spotlight the new round of tests started by the Soviet Union. Soviet representatives tried to have the question lumped with the assembly's debate on all disarmament questions.

Also approved for debate was the question of U.N. aid to prevent population growth. The topic was suggested by Sweden and Denmark and opposed by a number of Roman Catholic countries who fear this will lead to a U.N. debate on birth control.

Outside the committee, a move got under way to bypass Soviet opposition and name a stop-gap successor to the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. Support was growing for the assembly to name an interim chief of the U.N. secretariat.

East-West issues, especially the Berlin crisis, were discussed in private by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Neither was reported to have changed his position — and no change had been expected in the first meeting—but they planned another talk next week.

Typical of the gulf between the two nations was the way the China issue was presented in the Steering Committee. WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has confirmed the appointments of six Arkansas postmasters.

Close friends reportedly had detected mounting difficulties in the marriage in recent weeks.

The marriage was the first for the singer and the third for Ferrer. He formerly was the husband of Uta Hagen and Phyllis Hill.

The Ferrers' children are Miguel 6; Maria, 5; Gabrielle, 4; Monica, 3; and Rafael, 1.

Miss Clooney to Divorce Jose Ferrer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—In a development that caught most of the film colony by surprise, legal representatives of Rosemary Clooney confirmed today that the singer plans to seek a divorce from her academy award-winning husband, Jose Ferrer.

Ferrer, the versatile actor-director, best known for his movie portrayal of Cyrano de Bergerac in 1950, married Miss Clooney eight years ago. They have five children.

Miss Clooney, 33, was not available for comment.

Ferrer, 49, was in Dallas, Tex., directing a remake of the movie "State Fair."

The marriage had long been regarded as one of Hollywood's

the United Nations."

Both were approved, but the final wording will be decided when the full 99-nation assembly passes on the steering committee agenda decisions. Adoption of the Soviet wording would make it possible to decide the issue by a simple majority of U.N. members.

The United States says the question should be decided by the two-thirds vote reserved for all major U. N. issues, thus making it easier for the West to rally the one-third necessary to block Peking's admission.

The Steering Committee's action on China came after the United States dropped its 10-year-old strategy of getting the assembly to shelve the question from one year to the next. This delaying tactic was abandoned after it became apparent that the United States no longer had the votes to push it through. But Washington has made clear it still opposes any move to oust the Nationalists and seat the Communists in their place.

The new strategy is for the United States or an ally to propose setting up a committee to study the Chinese representation issue and report back to the assembly next year.

Husband Is Temperamental But a Good Provider

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I have read your column since I was 13. Now I am 21, married, and have a baby boy a year and a half old. I am thankful I can turn to you.

I was married when I was 17. I started to go with my husband at a very early age, and found he was very temperamental. I tried breaking off with him many times but he would throw a fit and break his car windows. I was scared, so we would make up and he told me he would never let me go.

Now his temper has cooled down. He is a very good provider, lets me handle the money, and gives me the car every day. He also likes to go out for a couple of drinks several nights a week with the boys.

Because he was so temperamental when we were first married, I grew to dislike him more and more. Now we don't have so many arguments since we have the baby, but when he kisses me I have no feelings. As far as sex goes I could do without it but I know he can't. I thought of leaving him, but I think of the baby and I stay.

Now I have been going to the beauty parlor and the fellow that does my hair is very nice. He is 22 and always tells me he likes my dress or that I should smile because I look nicer. I go home and think of him, wishing I could go out with him to see if I really care, or is it only infatuation? He knows I am married and have a baby. He is not married. He has never asked me to go out with him. If he does, do you think I should go? —Confused Wife.

Dear Confused Wife: You don't really need an answer to your question, because I doubt very much the nice hairdresser will ask you to go out. It is his business to tell you that you look nice, and his business to help you look nice. And doesn't everyone look nicer smiling?

You are restless and bored because the novelty has worn off your marriage, but that is no reason why you should be casting sheep's eyes at other, and unmarried, young men.

You have a child you love, a husband who takes care of you. Be grateful for these, and try to deserve them. Think of new ways to please your husband, dress up and be pretty for him, plan attractive meals for him.

Play with your baby and have fun with him. Take an interest in your home. Surely there are things you can do to make it more pleasant. Your husband's bad temper will continue to lessen as he sees you are interested in him, your child, and your household. This is your world, you have chosen it, and now you must make it a good one to live in.

Dear Helen: I'm in love with a man, 24. I am 15 but more mature than others my age. I feel sure you will tell me to wait a couple of years but I'm willing. I'm sure of what I want as I have been dating since 12. I have many friends who approve of our friendship, but others do not. My mother is undecided. Tell me if I should continue to see him or completely drop him for a year or so. —Undecided.

Dear Undecided: You are completely right: I do tell you to wait, to grow up, to have fun with friends of your own age before deciding that you are in love with a man who is nine years older than you are. If you do share a mutual affection he will wait for you, and he will enjoy watching you develop from a teen into a young woman. Meantime you should also give the boys in your own age group a chance to know you too—and you should know them. You are much too young to settle now upon the choice of a lifetime love!

Strain on Roger Maris Tremendous

By JOE REIMLER Associated Press Sports Writer BOSTON (AP)—The strain on Roger Maris in his nearly successful assault on Babe Ruth's home run record in 154 decisions was so gruelling, it caused hair to fall out of his head, the New York slugger revealed today.

Finally breaking down after having minimized all along the mounting pressure as he gallantly strove to equal or beat baseball's most celebrated record, he disclosed his visit to a Baltimore doctor Thursday when he became alarmed by the loss of tufts of hair in back and on the sides of his head.

"I was afraid it was some kind of disease," he said, "but the doctor assured me it was nothing of the sort. He said it was just a case of nerves, caused by strain and tension. He told me it must have been building up for some time and said I'd probably have some bald spots but the hair would eventually grow back again."

Pressure began back in July when it became evident that the 27-year-old outfielder had a real shot at Ruth's record. It mounted steadily with each home run and reached agonizing proportions in the final days.

Despite the pressure, Maris hit his 59th home run Wednesday night against Baltimore, in his last game in which to comply with Commissioner Ford Frick's 154 game edict.

The strain undoubtedly eased considerably Thursday night but Roger was unable to add to his home run total as Baltimore's Jack Fisher held him without a hit in four times at bat. The Orioles won 5-3 in the Yankees final appearance of the season at Baltimore.

Maris now has seven games left, two here and five in New York, in which to hit the two home runs he needs to top Ruth's 60 in 1927.

"I'm still out there trying," he said, "but somehow the feeling is different, knowing you don't have to push for anything."

Old Show Is Being Brought Back to TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A few years ago in the halcyon days of television, one of the joys for the adult, semi-literate-and-better viewer was a nightly puppet show called "Kukla, Fran and Ollie," which specialized in a rather sophisticated brand of wry, droll whimsy.

The attractive little show subsequently suffered the slings and arrows of low ratings and finally disappeared from the networks. Now, in one of the pleasant but puzzling events of the season, NBC is bringing it back.

In the black and white world of television thinking, it is ordained that puppet shows are for children. Hence, the new "Kukla and Ollie" returns net Monday as a daily show—and at an hour reserved for the little ones.

NBC obligingly provided reviewers with a preview of the first week's batch of programs. They are only five minutes long, including the commercials, and really don't give Kukla, Oliver J. Dragon and Beulah Witch, to name a few of the delightful puppet regulars to do much more than hit-and-run comedy. But it is still long enough to them to provide a bright spot in an adult's day, a moment of sharp satire, bright wit and topical comedy. But the hour is impossible—5-5:05 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, when

Hogs' Moore Will Not See Any Action

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks will try to operate with one offensive quarterback Saturday when they meet Mississippi here Saturday.

The lone general is George McKinney, a senior letterman. The Hogs' alternate quarterback, junior Billy Moore, will make the trip but probably will not play because of a knee injury.

Game time is 2:30 p.m. The bout will be nationally televised ABC.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Thursday McKinney would work all the offensive downs for the Razorbacks and senior reserve man Tommy Fowler will relieve him on defense and play safety.

As usual, Mississippi outweighs the Razorbacks heavily. The Rebels have a 16-pound-per-man advantage in the line and 11 pounds in the backfield.

In the Rebels' first three lines, only five men weigh under 200 pounds.

The possibility of a rainy game day sent Mississippi's hopes up this week. The Rebels are better equipped for sloppy action, and one of the reasons is Billy Ray Adams, a 210-pound fullback.

Arkansas buses its offense on speed and the quick getaway.

Arkansas enplanes for Vicksburg, Miss., at 1 p.m. today. The Hogs will work out there and spend the night, then move to Jackson Saturday morning.

Broyles said end Tim Langston and halfback Darrell Williams, who have been down with injuries, probably will be at their regular spots. Langston works on the first unit, and Williams on the second.

The other first line end for Arkansas will be Jimmy Collier. Jerry Mazzanti and John Childress are the tackles. Dean Garrett and Ray Trail the guards, and Danny Brabham and Jerry Lineberger defensive and offensive centers.

Lance Alworth and Paul Dudley will be the starting halfbacks, and Jesse Branch will open at fullback with Billy Joe Moody on the second unit.

Mississippi's offense is directed by Doug Elmore, a flashy letterman who played behind All-America Jake Gibbs last year. The halfbacks are Art Doty and Louis Guy.

Maris Fails to Homer, Yanks Lose

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Roger Maris, one homer shy of matching Babe Ruth's record of 60, failed to homer today in four tries as the American League champion New York Yankees lost to the Baltimore Orioles 5-3.

That left Maris, who no longer can officially tie the Bambino's mark under the 154-decision limit set by Commissioner Ford Frick, with seven games in which to match or surpass the Babe on the AL's expanded 162-game program. The Yankees, idle today, move into Boston next for a two-game set Saturday and Sunday, then return home for a pair with the Orioles and a windup three-game series with the Red Sox.

"I intend to play every game the rest of the season," insists Maris, who hit No. 39 at Baltimore Wednesday night and became the first player in major league history to come that close to Ruth's record.

He didn't get anywhere with Jack Fisher who brought his record to 10-12 with a three-hitter. Fisher kept the Yanks—using mostly reserves—away from the pinch except in the sixth when they came up with two unearned tallies as Bob Hale reached base on an error and Tony Kubek hit a two-out, pinch-hit homer.

The Orioles had snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh with a four-run

Bobcats Open Home Season Tonight at 8

By VINCE FOSTER
Hope Star Sports Writer

Tonight at 8 the Hope Bobcats open their home season as they meet highly ranked Smackover Buckaroos. This may very well be the toughest team the Cats will face this year and a Bobcat victory would be one of the biggest upsets of the year.

In the past eight seasons Smackover has five wins, two losses and a tie with the Bobcats. Last year they rolled past Hope 13-7, and they went from there to Fairview for second place honors in the district with a 4-2 record. This year they are picked to win the district, and they are presently rated second in AA football in the state.

Ask a 4AA football player what he thinks of when he hears the word "Smackover" and he will quickly answer, "Joe Black." That 202 pound Smackover fullback is regarded as one of the best in the state, as he was all-state and all-district last year. This year he should be even tougher. Co-Captain James "Smiley" Bryant is another all-district returnee for the Bucks. Bryant, weighing 183, teams with Black, leading rusher and scorer in 4AA last year, to make a very tough combination. Another danger is returning starter, HB Bill Neal, who scored the winning points in Smackover's victory over Fairview last week. The previous week the Bucks tied Big 9 power, El Dorado Wildcats, 6-6 with Black scoring the TD.

The Bobcats, suffering from senior shortage, will be playing this week with only three starting seniors, Dudley, Watkins and Compton. They will have four sophomores and five juniors. The big question mark is in the line, where the Cats are lacking. Dudley, a hard running FB and candidate for all-district, plus Porterfield, who leads the Cats in rushing, are very capable of stepping off that yardage with pretty good blocking, and QB Earl Ray Murphy may help out with his dangerous passing arm. Richard McDowell fills the other HB slot and hopes are that he can shake loose against the tough Buckaroo line. At the ends will be speedster Billy Compton and hard hitting sophomore James Marcum. Charles Beyerly and Kendall Yocum fill the tackle positions, and are capable of moving people if they set their minds to it. Guards are senior Guy Watkins and sophomore Jack Caldwell and they can open holes when they buckle down. They border center Dan Jones, 190 pound sophomore, who has been known to run over people at certain times. If each of these boys and the defensive team will put an all-out effort tonight, they can stage one of the biggest upsets of the season and knock the Buckaroos off the top step of the district ladder, thus opening the way for another Bobcat championship.

Freak Play Gives Tie to Visitors

By VINCE FOSTER
Hope Star Sports Writer

A freak play with only minutes left in the game enabled the Arkadelphia "B" team to tie the "B" Bobcats 13-13 Tuesday night in Hammond's Stadium. The Bobcats had led 7-6 at the half and 13-6 going into the final minutes.

Arkadelphia drew first blood, as they rambled 55 yards to the Hope 10, where Nix carried it over. The pass for the PAT was incomplete, but the Badgers led 6 to 0.

In the second quarter Sullivan climaxed a 60 yard drive as he plunged over from the two. Duval Moore kicked the extra point that put the Cats out front 7-6.

In the third quarter Hope drove to the 11, but lost the ball on downs. Arkadelphia then moved to the 35, where McMillan passed to Matt Wassell. Hope again lost the ball, but soon got it back on a punt. Plays later, "Wild Bill" Aldridge scampered 50 yards to the Arkadelphia 5, but there a Bobcat aerial was intercepted in the end zone and moved to the Arkadelphia 1. Soon the Badgers had to punt, and the Cats took over on the enemies' 25, 10 yards later, Mac McLarty scooted 15 yards to paydirt with Larry Thrash throwing the key block.

A bad pass from center stopped the PAT, and the Cats led 13-6.

The Badgers took the kickoff and quickly moved to mid-field, where McMillan passed to the 20. The receiver caught the ball and fumbled it forward, and another Badger picked it up but also fumbled it down to the Hope 7, where a third Badger covered it. Plays later Hathcock carried it over from the 2 and McMillan tied up the game on the extra point.

Coach Pierce commented "The boys all played good ball." "At least they're improving."

The players were Matt Wassell, Mac McLarty, Maurice Sullivan, Bill Aldridge, Gene Davis, Duval Moore, Ricky Butler, Jack Caldwell, Bryan English, Jack Russell, Larry Thrash, Joe Purvis, Larry Cook, Jewell Still, Paul Randolph, Chuck Brown, Joe Morton, Jimmy Walker and Truett King.

Sullivan and Aldridge led in rushing with 101 yards each, and they were followed by Russell with 76, McLarty, 50, Wassell 6, and Thrash with 5.

Kittens Come From Behind for Victory

By VINCE FOSTER
Hope Star Sports Writer

The Hope Bobkittens came back from trailing 14-6 at the half here last night to take the Texarkana Piggies 27-14 and also the Kittens 16th consecutive victory. This was the fourth straight win over the Piggies of Jefferson Avenue Junior High.

Hope took the kickoff and quickly moved to the Texarkana 11, where they lost the ball on downs. Seven plays later Piggie QB Lotts completed a pass to Albright, that covered 47 yards and carried the Pigs to the Hope 13. They moved from there to the 1, where Crane went over. Blagg made the PAT, and the visitors led 7-0.

Hope came back on a Jordan pass to speedster Jerry Burnett, who scampered 58 yards for paydirt. The extra point failed and the Kittens trailed 7-6.

Texarkana quickly drove to the Hope 2, where Lott scored with Crane making the PAT. The Kittens then drove 54 yards on Waller and Burnett sprints to the Piggie 21, but lost the ball there when Texarkana intercepted a pass on the 9. The score at half-time was Texarkana 14, Hope 6.

The Jefferson Avenue band performed at halftime. Also following the Piggies were their drill team, pep squad, cheerleaders and numerous fans.

After the visitors punted the Kittens scooted to the Piggie 23, highlighted by a Burnett scamper of 36 yards. Hope then moved to the 1 behind the rushing of Jerry Waller, where Burnett took it over as the scoreboard read Hope 13, visitors 14.

The Kittens started another drive from the Piggie 41 to their 20, where Burnett again scampered.

Combination No. 4 Magic for Redlegs

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

The Cincinnati Reds, their first National League pennant in 21 years almost within grasp, take on the San Francisco Giants tonight at Crosley Field while their fading rivals, the Los Angeles Dodgers, journey to St. Louis to do battle with the Cardinals.

The key number is four. Any combination of Cincinnati victories or Los Angeles defeats making four assures the pennant to the Redlegs for the first time since 1940.

Cincinnati has Bob Purkey (16-11) ready to send against San Francisco's Billy O'Dell (5-5). The honor of being chosen to oppose the New York Yankees in the World Series might be finalized this weekend.

Certainly the schedule favors the Reds. They play San Francisco again Saturday and then go on the road for their four last games—at Chicago Sept. 26, and at Pittsburgh Sept. 29 and 30, and Oct. 1.

The Dodgers will be on the road from now to the end of the season and have a much busier time of it. Two more games after tonight will be played at St. Louis and then the Pirates will be met at Pittsburgh Sept. 25 and 26, the Phillies at Philadelphia Sept. 27 and 28, and the Cubs at Chicago Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

The Yankees, out scouting the Redlegs in force, are now reconsidering playing Cincinnati. They would have preferred the Dodgers. The reason, of course, is that the Coliseum in Los Angeles holds 92,000 for a baseball game and Crosley Field a bare 30,000. This makes a big difference in the players' share of the series receipts.

There were no games scheduled in the National League Thursday. In the American League, Roger Maris was unable to add to his 59-homer total, going hitless in four trips as the champion New York Yankees were beaten 5-3 by Washington 6-3 in the only other game scheduled.

Coach Billy Mitchell, well pleased, commented "They finally decided to play football that second half."

Next week the Bobkittens travel to Camden, whom they have beaten four times in the past two years. Ruby Rainwater.
